

Pottery

The potteries are both practical containers and fantastic artworks.

The invention of Pottery

- The pottery is originated in the neolithic.(新石器时代)
- And then the potteries are slowly developed until today.

- From then on , ancient people use these cheap containers everywhere
- In this way , the potteries constantly develop and become a form of art .

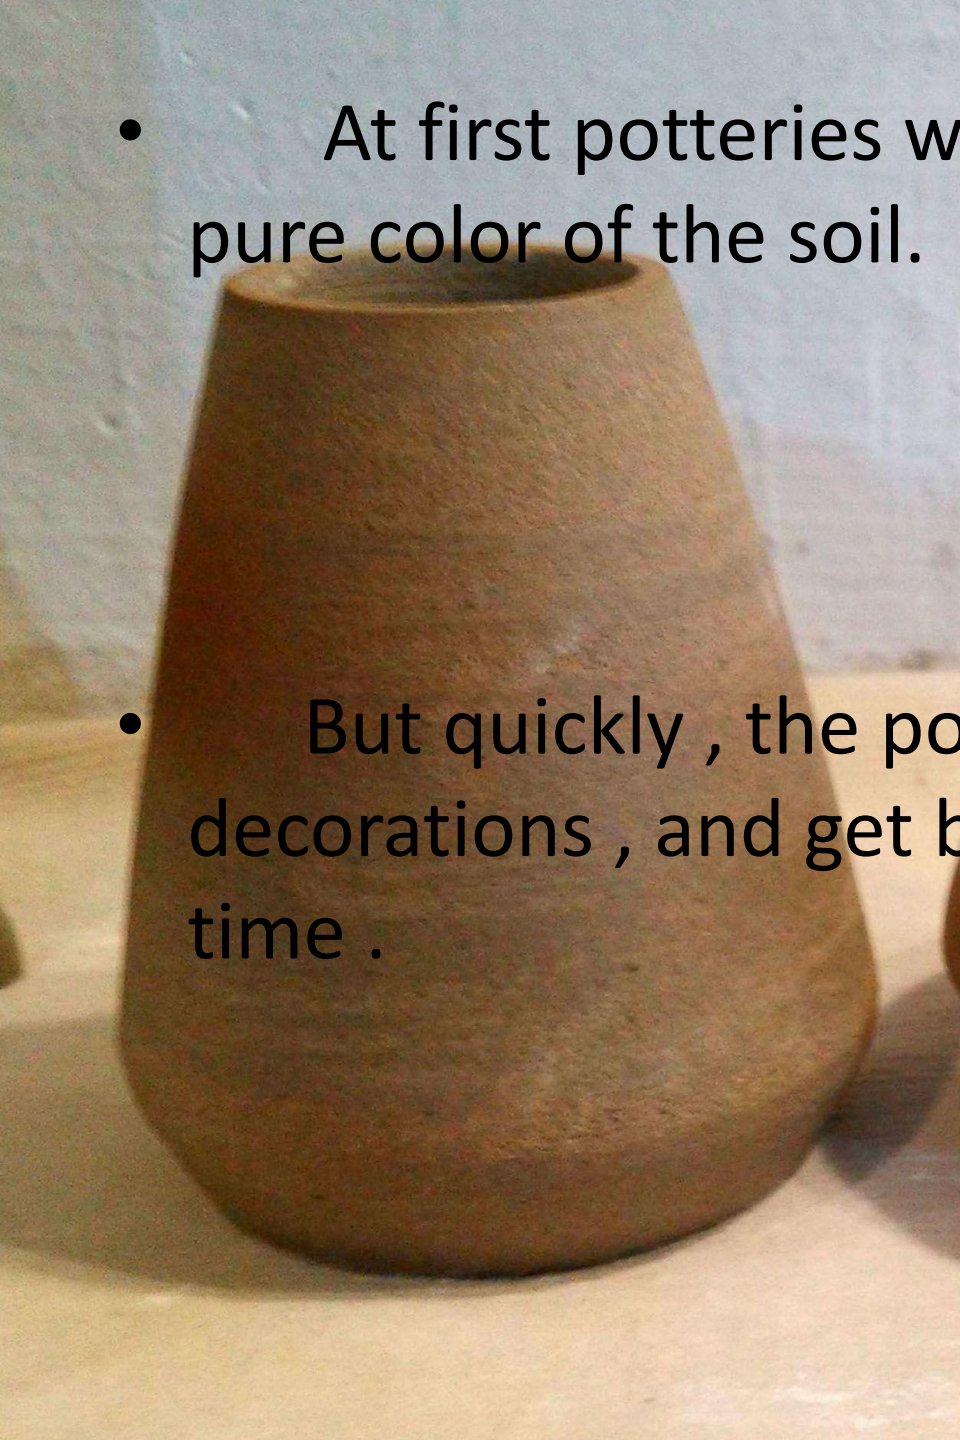

The development of Pottery

- Time goes by , and the potteries become colorful , their functions are not limited as containers.
- Today , those various containers are different beautiful artworks.

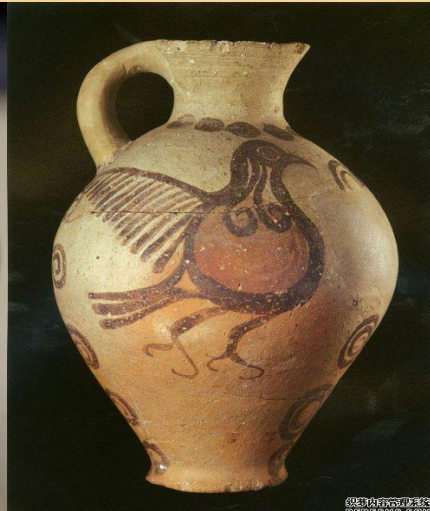

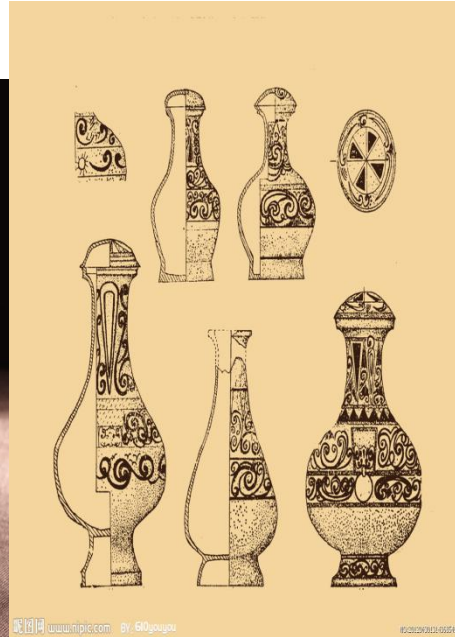

- At first potteries was in one color , the pure color of the soil.

- But quickly , the potteries have their own decorations , and get beautiful through the time .

The comparison of different potteries

- In different cultures ,the potteries are not always the same .
- They are different in many aspects.

The way of Making

- From ancient ages until now , the potteries are always made by hand .
- And many famous potter devoted their lives for it .

My view of the Pottery

- Art comes from life , the pottery is a proper example towards this theory .
- The pottery is a great invention for our daily life.
